TO BE REMOVED TO SOUND CITY

Headquarters of the Department of the Columbia Will Go

Plan to Abandon Vancouver Has Just Leaked Out—Will Be Serious Loss to Portland's Business Men.

PORTLAND, Aug. 1.—The Telegram says: It has leaked out in army circles that the headquarters of the department of the Columbia are to be removed from Vancouver to Seattle within a few weeks. General G. R. Randall, who is in command of the department, will therefore leave for the Puget Sound city, taking his staff with him.

Citizens of Seattle have been working hard for some time to induce the war department to make the change, and although their movements were known to the people of this city, no great efforts were made by Portlanders to offset them. Now that the removal has become a certainty, the loss of business consequent will be deplored, but too late to prevent it.

It is understood that General Randall does not favor the removal, as his quarters at Vancouver have been roomy and comfortable, and was in close touch with every garrison in the department. His staff officers also view the removal with disfavor, though of course they do not express themselves in public. To be taken from a pleasant, roomy garrison, where each family has a large residence to itself, and placed in a crowded city where a few rooms must suffice, is considerable of a "come down," and the officers realize it.

When General Randall goes he takes with him the chief quartermaster, chief commissary, chief of ordnance, paymaster, signal officer and chief of engineers. It is natural that the supplies of each of these important branches of the department will be bought wherever the chief officers reside, so the loss in business to Portland may be quickly appreciated.

The reasons given for the removal are that Seattle is more central than Vancouver, when Alaska is considered, and that the head of the department should not reside at a garrison. Where the head officer and the post commander have different opinions in regard to the conduct of the post, there is likely to be friction. General Randall is the only department commander in the United States whose headquarters are at a garrison. The other commanding generals all reside in cities.

A sub-station for the purchase of supplies will be retained in Portland. Colonel Jacobs, who had charge of the quartermaster's department here since 1899, will retire from the position within a few weeks, but his successor is to be not yet made known.

The removal of the official headquarters from Vancouver will not interfere with the extensive improvements to be made at Vancouver, where the government is about to expend $142,000 in buildings. The garrison will be one of the largest on the coast, and will be known as a regimental headquarters in the future.

ENGLAND'S HOPES RETURNING.

King's Condition Seem to Encourage Progress of Ceremonies.

New York, Aug. 1.—Optimism regarding the coronation is slowly reviving under the stimulative effects of the surgeon's bulletin says a London dispatch to the Tribune.

Whether the king's will is imperative or his medical advisers consider it necessary to humor him, there is a determined effort to subject the patient, who is nearly able to make one or two turns on the deck of the yacht, to the fatigue and excitement of the coronation ceremonial. Motives of state prevail, although there is general agreement among medical men that an ordinary patient would not be fit for so hazardous an experiment a few weeks after a most serious operation.

The business of selling seats is looking up now that the programmes of the procession and the ritual are reappearing and the decorators here and there are touching up the faded glories of the June preparations.

WAR COLLEGE BOARD MEETS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The war college board has been in session during the past week at the war department, adjusting a number of questions. The most important matter calling for immediate consideration was the opening of the general service and staff college at Fort Leavenworth. The board has approved, with some minor changes, the regulation and programme of instruction for the college prepared by the board recently in session at Fort Leavenworth. The board also recommended the detail of an assistant commandant and corps of instructors to meet the requirements of the college in the near future. It was developed some years ago that the practice of detailing instructors from the garrison officers was not altogether satisfactory so that the present detail is intended merely as temporary. After General Bell arrives and the college staff can make recommendation for details, permanent instructors will be substituted as rapidly as the accommodations for officers at the post will permit. The improvements at the post, began some two years ago, have not yet been completed and it will probably be a year or two more before all the buildings will be increased to meet the requirements of this institution.

NEGLECT OF WEST INDIES.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 1.—The chamber of commerce has passed a resolution condemning the imperial government's neglect of the West Indies and resolving to not notice the proposed grant of £10,000. Several speakers urged the idea of annexation to the United States and the newspapers are devoting columns to a serious discussion of the matter. Some suggest a federation with Canada but the majority of the writers favor American annexation as the last resort.

INCREASE ASSESSMENTS.

DES MOINES, Aug. 1.—The executive council has increased the railroad assessments of Iowa $4,041,556, making a total of $51,112,814. The increase on the Northwest railroad is $1,100,549, that on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul is $900,862, and that on the Chicago Burlington & Quincy is $655,457. The Burlington, the Chicago Great Western, the Rock Island, the Omaha and St. Louis and the Illinois Central all are included, the amounts ranging from $225,000 to $300,000.

COPPER MINES CLOSE.

Houghton, Mich., Aug. 1.—The Isle Royale Mining Company has discharged 100 men, closing down its No. 1 shaft and slipping two of its mill heads. The cause is said to be the low price of copper.

SPOKANE, Aug. 1.—A Waterville special to the Spokesman-Review says: George McCann has just arrived with the report that this morning about 15 miles west of Coulee City, he passed a man answering Tracy's description. He had two horses, supposed to have been taken near Wenatchee. Deputy Sheriff Frial and City Marshal Meyers left last night to intercept Tracy at Moses Lake, the only route that could be taken if he is headed for the mountains. Deputy Sheriff Sedgwick, of Coulee City, will follow up the clew reported by McCann.

While at Sanders' place near Wenatchee Wednesday, Sanders asked him how many men had he really killed since his escape. Tracy replied, only three.

"Some of the men they say I killed near Seattle were killed by their own men."

In reply to the question as to how he got over here he said:

"I walked and crawled through to Summit, where I met a prospector who gave me a buckskin horse. Then I came across a sheep camp near Ellensburg and stole two pack horses, a Winchester and some flour and bacon."

ANOTHER SCOW ROBBED.

Another of Lindenberger's scows was robbed Thursday night by masked men and $420 was stolen. The scow was in charge of J. W. Leonard and was moored near Chinook. About 2 a. m. Leonard was awakened by men rapping on the door, who asked him if he wished to buy some fish. He made an affirmative reply and was preparing to light a lamp when he was seized and pinioned. After binding him hand and foot, the robbers threw him into a corner and prepared to ransack the scow, securing the amount above named. Then the robbers went away in their boat. They wore masks and Leonard was unable to distinguish them. He was unable to release himself from his bond, but managed to roll through the door of the scow and passing fishermen heard his cries for assistance. There is no clue to the robbers, although $100 reward has been offered for information that will lead to their arrest and conviction. Only a short time ago another of Lindenberger's scows was robbed under precisely the same circumstances.

KILLS WOMAN WHO TWITTED HIM

Well Known Mining Man Commits Terrible Tragedy at Salt Lake.

HAD A FAMILY QUARREL

After Killing Woman Companion
He Wounds Man Who Seeks to Interfere, Then Kills Himself.

SALT LAKE, Aug. 1.—At the Salt Palace grounds at 1 o'clock tonight, J. C. McCarlin, the well known mining man of this city shot and killed Lottie Russell and dangerously wounded Max Peters and then committed suicide by shooting himself through the head.

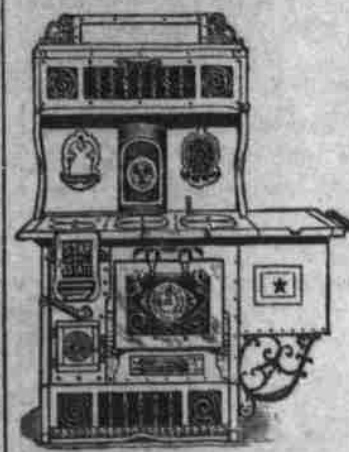

McCarlin, Miss Russell, Peters and another man whose name was not learned, formed a party which attended the bicycle races. It is said McCarlin had trouble with his wife today and had been drinking. Peters and Miss Russell are reported to have twitted him about his domestic troubles, whereupon he became enraged and drew his revolver and shot Miss Russell who had started to run, through the back. Peters who attempted to keep McCarlin from shooting the girl was shot through the chest. McCarlin after firing the shot at another member of the party, placed the revolver to his right temple and fired a bullet through his head. He died an hour later.
